Another large order for steel cars was announced yesterday by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, three firms in the Pittsburgh district being given contracts for 3,000 cars involving an outlay of $3,000,000. Yesterday afternoon the Macaroni & Merchandising Company let contracts for 7,000 cars within the last six weeks involving an expenditure of $7,000,000.

The Pressed Steel Car Company will make 1,000 coke cars, the Standard Steel Car Company was given contracts for 1,000 steel underframe box cars of the $60,000-pound capacity type and the 1,000 cars will be of the coke type and will be made by the Cambria Steel Company.

a Year—Big Demand For Product.

The Chamber of Commerce has handed the chamber industry for Connellsville. Yesterday negotiations were concluded for the purchase of the site and work will be rushed in erecting a building to house the Connellsville Macaroni & Merchandising Company, capitalized at $60,000 and which will employ from 40 to 60 persons, mostly girls. The annual payroll of the company in the beginning will be about $15,000.

Two lots on Sixth street, West Side, were secured as a site for the factory. One of these lots was donated by the

Labor Federation Will Tax Members to Fight Dalzell

United Press Telegram.

PITTSBURGH, July 1.—The County Commissioners today refused Dr. Robert J. Black's petition for a recount of the primary votes in one district.

It is rumored that the American Federation of Labor will support Black as an independent candidate against John Dalzell. It will tax the members of the county 15 cents each to be used in Black's cause.

Of the $60,000 capitalization, nearly all will be subscribed and paid in at the time the company starts business.

The stockholders are scattered throughout this section. At the head of the company are Frank A. Maddox, president, and Ezrie Nannatt, of Masontown. These men selected Connellsville after inspecting many other sites in Fayette county. Connellsville was decided upon principally because of its superior shipping facilities.

With Superintendent of Transportation J. W. Brown this morning and went over in detail the schedule for car service on the Fourth of July and all that week.

The West Penn will take care of all the celebrations being held on the Fourth and practically everything on wheels will be provided in car service. It has been many years since so many celebrations were held at the same time. Practically every town in that section has a celebration Monday. Mt. Pleasant's will last all week.

ANOTHER CHAPTER

Of the Trouble That Two Assurances

The road belongs to the Dunkard railroad. Consequently, a multitude of cars transported to and from the firm are over its tracks. The physical assets of the company consisting of a locomotive and a string of freight cars.

With the Western Maryland entering Dunbar will come the enlargement of one of the most prosperous industries there, the Continuous Press Glass Company. It is said that the officials of this company will contemplate the enlargement of their already big plant by holding its plans in abeyance until the actual route of the Western Maryland's branch is determined upon.

It is noticeable that no grading work has been started on the Western Maryland near Connellsville which gives rise to the report that in the end Dunbar may be on the main line.

The Yezbak and Simon family troubles were aired again last evening when Mrs. Simon was before Squire P. H. Buttermore of the West Side on a charge of divorce at Dunbar. Mrs. Simon was held for court.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Yezbak was given a hearing before Squire W. P. Clark on a similar charge made by Mrs. Simon and as the result both will appear in court on the cross again. It will be settled. Mrs. Yezbak alleges that the trouble started when Mrs. Simon refused to give her a sack of tomatoes and Mrs. Simon insisted that Mrs. Yezbak was the instigator of the trouble.

As has already been announced in these columns, the Alverton High School will be in charge of Professor Schrumm, Miss Anna Duncan and Professor Durstine. Some radical changes have been made in the face of many protests and it now remains for the school to be judged. The teachers will not be satisfied until aught not to be with anything short of the very best work.

HOOSIER SPECIAL PAY DAY!

Every day is pay day for the woman who has a Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet in her kitchen.

Pay in extra hours of pleasant leisure.

Pay in relief from tired, aching muscles.

Pay in thousands of extra steps that are saved.

Pay in the stoppage of a hundred little food wastes.

Pay in better health, better spirits, better temper and greater happiness.

If your Hoosier pay days haven't begun yet, come by tomorrow and see this splendid cabinet in our show window.

—And perhaps drop in, and without the slightest obligation to you give us the pleasure of showing you more of its conveniences.

FOR THE FOURTH

A Crackerjack Opportunity to Get Bang Up Values in Seasonable Summer Wear.

The Nation's birthday is near at hand—and already everyone is planning for its celebration. Some will stay at home—others will go away—but all will wish to be faultlessly attired in the light raiment required at this season. The day brings many needs which can be most advantageously filled here. We have prepared a splendid list of special offerings of goods required for the Glorious Fourth. THE HOT WEATHER

WORRIES MEYERDALE.

Meyersdale is badly troubled these hot days about the movements of its railroads. The good citizens of that enterprising Somerset county town do not want to give the Western Maryland all it wants in the way of franchises and street privileges, yet they fear to drive the railroad away if they demand too much. Then, too, they are puzzled much concerning the movements of a multitude of civil engineers said to be in the employ of the Baltimore & Ohio.

The Meyersdale people should cease worrying. It is a good rule to keep cool on all occasions, especially in the scorching summertime. Concerning the Western Maryland's right-of-way through and upon the public streets and private property of the borough, we would respectfully suggest that the railway company be given everything on reason and fairness at fair and reasonable prices. We assume that the company is perfectly willing to pay at fair and reasonable prices for everything they want in Meyersdale.

We further feel safe in saying that the Western Maryland wants to locate its line through Meyersdale. It wants a share of Meyersdale's business. Railroads are commercial propositions, not vehicles for the gratification of personal resentments. The Western Maryland, therefore, will come to Meyersdale if the citizens do not drive it away by extravagant and unreasonable demands.

Meyersdale citizens should not perplex themselves too persistently about the movements of the B. & O. engineers, since it seems that nothing which that railroad has in contemplation can affect Meyersdale save in a beneficial manner.

If the Meyersdale of Meyers Mills can't keep entirely cool just now, they should keep as cool as they can.

ANOTHER PROOF

FOR CONNELLSVILLE.

Connellsville has added another star to its galaxy of industries. It is officially announced that a macaroni factory will be constructed on the West Side. The establishment will produce macaroni sufficient to feed the American Sons of Sunny Italy throughout the length and breadth of the Connellsville coke region, and they have come to be a mighty host.

The West Side macaroni factory demonstrates very conclusively two things, namely, (1) that Italian labor and citizenship has come to the Connellsville region to stay, and (2) that Connellsville is the center of that region. The macaroni factory would not be built in Connellsville if it were not the center of the coke region, and it would not be built at all if the Italian population of the coke region were not great enough to justify wholesale production of the basis of Italian living.

We defy the Untowns press to successfully refute these logical conclusions.

The manager of the Western Union telegraph office in Connellsville seems to have been more heavily than ever informed or wise. The complaint he makes concerning an editorial paragraph in The Courier, is entirely unfounded. The paragraph had no reference to him personally and was not intended to have, and the editor of this paper was not cognizant of any contemplated arrangements concerning the bulletin of the Reno prize-fight. Just what use will be made of this bulletin has not yet been determined. They may not be executed at all.

Dunbar township seems to have had a strenuous fight for Republican County Committeemen. It is not often that men are willing to pay liberally for the privilege of entertaining trouble.

The bandstand is up to the Library, maybe.

Even Everard wants to issue bonds for public improvements. It's a pity Everard cannot be annexed to Scotland. It might be done if Scotland would cross the creek and come into Fayette county.

Jumping from the Brooklyn bridge seems to have become the pastime of boys instead of men. This form of sport should not be encouraged until the art of aviation extends to practical wings for humanity.

The Fayette county brewery morgan is gathering strength as it goes.

The Italian Government threatens to try Porter Charlton by proxy. He will probably prefer being tried that way, but in case he is the question arises whether he can be tried in this country. It has been virtually determined that he cannot. In that case, he cannot be committed to a madhouse like Harry Thaw. Persons who desire to commit murder will perhaps take their victims to Italy. It looks as if Italy had better agree to turn over some of her scoundrelly cutthroats in exchange for some of our very respectable uxoriolides.

The Frick baseball aggregation seems to be worthy of the name.

The robbing business is experiencing something of a boom. This boom will be reflected in the Fayette county jail.

When the pastor is chased by his flock it is evident that the flock needs a new pastor.

The Western Maryland is out for business and it does not propose to miss any of it between Connellsville and Cumberland. While it cannot build its main line through every town, it will reach all the more important interests either directly or by lateral branches. Dunbar will probably be on the main line.

The Salisbury snake which swallowed a glass nest egg has succeeded in knocking sky-high the old proverb about the serpent's wisdom.

The Bureau of Mines is reported to be officially open today, but apparently only for exhibition purposes.

The bottom is reported to be falling out of Wall street. Wall street is responsible for more earth tremors than most active volcanoes.

When Greek meets Greek in Connellsville it is no Marathon but a regular mix-up, especially when the warriors are Amazons.

The increased tax on tobacco will make the smokers come shorter.

The thermometer has the aviation fever.

Irwin has too many professional dynamites.

Carbolic acid has its household uses, but it is a fruitful source of death both by accident and by design.

The Dunbar and Dawson celebrations are nothing so big that they are in danger of bumping against each other.

Ex-Forester Pinchot is mentioned as a candidate for President on the Labor ticket. His platform will doubtless be, "Woodman, spare that tree!"

The sloopwalker who is being made famous by the Cartoonist has been located. He lives in Washington county.

Young Men

are recognized as the critical clothes buyers; they give more thought to style in clothes than older men; and they ought to. When a man gets established in business and in society he can afford to be a little less particular, though many such men are still very exacting.

But young men are apt to give so much thought to style that they neglect quality; if the clothes look smart and lively, young fellows are quite likely to forget to insist on having them good also.

There's no reason why you shouldn't have the smartest style, with the best and highest quality.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

make our young men's clothes; the styles are very lively; but the fabrics are always all-wool, the tailoring is the best possible.

Have style and quality both; just as easy to have both, as to have one. Suits $20 to $25.

A NEW ROUTE SURVEYED

The most commonly accepted rumor is that the B. & O. is seeking a low grade line from Garrett to Sand Point for its third track. Many stakes have been driven along the Plougharty in the hill sides west of the Casselino between Garrett and Shaw Mines. Last week a corps of surveyors staked a line from the north end of Hunsicker hill, keeping to the east of the

"Indeed!" murmured Kirby, clutching his chest. "How do you know?"

"Because no weapon was found with the body."

"Who told you that?"

"Nobody."

"Then how do you know?"

"I found Moreau's body, and I am the chief witness against you," snapped the boy, spitting out the words with distilled venom.

Aaron Randall's expression changed, and with sudden agitation he grasped M. Veaudry's arm. "To both men some idea of the boy's despicable action had occurred."

Kirby waited coolly, surveying his accuser, while he carefully chose his next words. "So you are the man I had to find," he said measuredly, with a sardonic, contemptuous smile. "Did you throw that pistol away, or did you keep it?"

"That's your defense, is it?" cried Tom, laughing wildly. "I'll show you how much water that'll hold. You want to accuse me of taking it—accuse me of taking that poor dead man's pistol? You'll find that accusation is going to fasten the rope just a little tighter around your neck. Moreau left his pistol in that portmanteau this morning while at my aunt's house, and if I speak the truth there you are."

He pointed dramatically to the green leather article his cousin still guarded, and, Aaron making no move to open it, but remaining preoccupied and silent, Judge Pleydell stepped briskly forward and performed the service, holding significantly aloft the Derringer which had almost ended Kirby's life.

"Hi! That looks as if I took it, doesn't it?" cried Tom, turning in savage triumph upon his flinching enemy. "The only pistol I carried in my life was my father's. There it is," producing from his pocket the silver-mounted single shot weapon. "You ought to know that pistol," he snubbed menacingly. "If you don't, these people here know it."

"You seem to have made your case," admitted Kirby, with cool brevity and indifference. "I believe I'd prefer to go out."

He glanced at Adele, but she had turned away with bowed head, looking utterly crushed. After a moment's hesitation he turned to go, when M. Veaudry sprang forward and barred his way.

"Keep out of this, Anatole!" warned young Randall. "You're doing your share."

"Yes, I have done my share, but I have not forgotten my honor," replied the young creole, pale with but ill-repressed excitement. "I would kill him, but not by lie. He had no right to take Colonel Moreau's name and this morning. He carried that very pistol you show us here, pointing to the weapon that Judge Pleydell still held. 'The proof is there,' he finished simply. 'Your cousin, he told me.'

She stared at him, wide-eyed, and tremulous with sudden fear and horror, as if the phantasmagoria of some hideous dream, a being whom she had swiftly learned to cherish, had in a breath turned into a venomous reptile, its wicked head drawn back to strike.

"There is only one man in the world who could make that claim," she whispered, choking over each word while she still stared with horrified fascination—"only one man in the world who could make that claim!"

"Don't you see who the scoundrel is?" cried Tom, with brutal contempt. Kirby bowed gravely to Adele Randall.

"Cameo Kirby—at your service, madam. I told you the bad price always stayed too long," he added slyly, bitterly.

CHAPTER XIII.

IMMEDIATELY following Kirby's dramatic declaration Adele had given a little cry and promptly fainted, while her brother attempted another ineffectual assault upon his enemy. With difficulty he was bundled out of the room by Aaron and M. Veaudry before blood was shed, Kirby being in no humor to stand further insults from his accuser. Then Adele was escorted from the room by old Manning Tenn, Group's wife, while Judge Pleydell repaired to the balcony and dismissed the patiently waiting posse.

Unwillingly the posse dispersed, some even returning to New Orleans, while the indefatigable old judge retired indoors and sought his three friends, leaving Kirby and Adele in undisputed possession of the ground floor.

"Well, gentlemen," began Pleydell in a businesslike voice, "there is only one thing to be done, and that is to adhere to our original plan. It is no time now to deplore our mutual blindness. The fact remains that that d—d low gambler has eluded the plantation, as we expected, though I admit he took an unlooked for and devilish roundabout method of doing so."

"If I had had any help he wouldn't be here now," interrupted Tom Randall, glowering at Aaron and M. Veaudry. "I'll fix him yet."

"Not you alone, but the four of us," corrected Pleydell, "and we'll give him a fuller chance than he deserves. In the meantime, Tom, we must control yourself and keep out of his way until the ladies have left the house, for no violence must be indulged in in their presence. Your poor sister has stood about all she can bear, I reckon, though I'm glad she discovered in time the true character of that despicable villain."

"You mean to insinuate that he dared to pay his address to Adele?" cried Tom, springing to his feet in a fresh access of fury.

M. Veaudry laid a restraining hand upon his arm. "It is that I do not think Mr. Kirby has acted as other than a gentleman to a lady," he said pacifically, glancing significantly at Pleydell.

"Gentlemen!" sneered young Randall. "As if he knew the meaning of the word! But if he had dared to address Adele I would go down now and—"

"You must learn to control yourself, sir," interposed the judge, somewhat testily, irritated at the boy's mad outbursts. "I think you can safely leave the honor of the family in the untiring and capable hands of your cousin. You have misinterpreted my words," he added, ignoring the other's shrug at the mention of Aaron's supposed abilities. "For Anatole is quite right. Mr. Kirby evidently has one virtue—he knows his limits—and your sister is not one to be impressed by such a character even if it were wearing under such an honorable name as Colonel Moreau. To return to the real theme, if it agreed, then, that we adhere to our original plan?"

Last Week of Big Clean-Up Piano Sale

Best Old Standard Makes Go at Practically Your Own Price.

A Few New Instruments in Chickering, Knabes and Hardmans in Discontinued Styles; and Many Other Attractive Bargains in Second Hands.

This is the last week of the "Paratory" or "Clean Up" Sale—positively.

When we announced this sale on May 22 we said that it would run throughout the month of June—closing on Saturday, July 2.

And so it will.

Even if all the pianos included in this sale are not sold—the prices at which they are now marked will be then withdrawn.

We, nor any other piano dealer, cannot afford to sell pianos all the time at prices that have ruled here this month. It can't be done.

Piano dealers, like any one else in business, must necessarily make some money to be able to stay in business—and money cannot be made at the prices that have ruled this month.

This sale has been just what we said it was—a "cleaning up" sale.

A sale to dispose of odds and ends.

Discontinued styles.

Discontinued makes.

Second hands.

Slightly used pianos.

Very expensive styles.

The object was not to try to make money on these this month—but to come out even if possible. We wanted to put our house in order for some big things to follow.

Now there are some big bargains remaining. Not lots of them—but a goodly number. Enough to make a good big week's selling.

Come in and look them over.

Ask to see the slightly used pianos—then the second hand pianos—and finally the new—but discontinued styles.

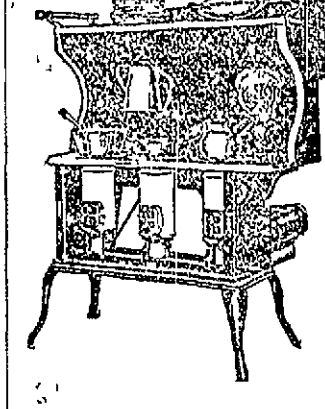

Or, if you want the cream—ask to look at the most expensive styles that are advertised.

LEISNERING WON FROM ADELAIDE.

Winning Streak Continues and Visitors Do Not Have a Look In.

JONES BATTERY HARD TO BEAT

Leisnering Boys Hit the Ball Hard,
Slaley Getting Four Hits and S.
Jones Three—Errors Help Pile Up
Scores Against Adelaide.

Adelaide went to Leisnering yesterday and lost, 11 to 1. The winning streak of the Leisnering boys remains unbroken and the team yesterday played like veterans. The Jones boys, S. and P., formed the battery and were unbeatable. P. Jones allowed the visitors but five hits. On the other hand Leisnering hit Pringle for 11 safe drives, added to which were six errors on the part of the Adelaide aggregation.

If it had not been for the balloon ascension in the fifth inning the game would have been more interesting. Leisnering scored six runs in this session alone. They also scored a bunch in the fourth inning. The score:

Frick League Notes.

Leisnering plays at Davidson tomorrow afternoon. The same team has a double header on Monday, playing at home with Youngstown in the morning and going to Youngstown in the afternoon. Next Wednesday Leisnering goes to Tarr and meets Central.

Trotter played at Central yesterday and defeated the team there 10 to 3. Slaley hit the ball hard for Leisnering yesterday.

Nearly all the teams have double headers scheduled for Monday.

J. Jones fanned nine batters against Adelaide yesterday.

The Trotter boys returned to town tonight last evening. They let out a bunch of yelling that would make a college team turn green with envy.

The meeting to form an eight club league will be held this evening. Here's hoping it goes through.

TROTTER WINS

Fine Up Hill Battle From the Central Team.

Trotter added another victory to its string at Central last evening. The Dunbar township team fought a game uphill contest and won 10 to 3. In the seventh inning the score was 7 to 2 in favor of Central when Mullin went to the mound. He stopped the fastidiously Central has been enjoying at the expense of Jollie Joe, allowing the Westmoreland slugger one hit in the three innings he pitched. Trotter scored a run each in the third and fourth innings. When the sixth ended they were five runs to the lead. They garnered two tallies in the sixth, three in the seventh, one in the eighth and two in the ninth. Central got a run in the ninth. Trotter had 19 hits to eight for Central. The score:

ELEVEN YEARS TODAY

The Tenth Regiment Started Home From the Philippines.

Eleven years ago today, on the first day of July 1929, the colors of the famous "Fighting Tenth" regiment left the shores of their past operations among the rice fields, swamps and jungles of the Philippines and turned their faces homeward. The long anticipated return to America, covering a distance of 8,000 miles to their loved ones was about to be realized. Cheers after cheer was given by the men on board the transport, the vessel gave three farwell blasts of its whistle and it was on its way through Manila Bay to the China sea.

Included in the voyage was a trip through the inland sea of Japan with a four day stop at Nagasaki and a two day stop at Yokohama, where the regiment was given full shore leave and well treated by the people of the Flower Kingdom. The scenery along the route through the inland sea was a pleasant diversion after the long ocean voyage. After leaving Yokohama on July 15th rough seas were encountered most of the way to San Francisco, Cal., where the regiment arrived on the evening of August 1st, 1929. Here they were given a royal welcome by the citizens of the city, whose honor they had defended in a strange land for a strange people.

A MATCH RACE

Between Jasper Johnson's Nag and Henry Cochran's Horse.

No little interest is being manifested in the match race between Henry Cochran's pacer, Ruth C. (2:20 1/4) against J. H. Johnson's trotter, Bonten S. at the Dawson Driving park on the afternoon of July 1. The race is for $500 purse.

Johnson is confident his little trotting mare will walk away with the money. The best three in five heats determine the winner. Cochran's mare has the advantage in age, being about a year younger than Johnson's pacer. Joan Shaffer will drive Ruth C. while Johnson will handle the ribbon for his own horse.

There will be the other races that afternoon but interest centers on the contest between Cochran's and the West Side man.

TEST MEETINGS

Of the Salvation Army Will Open Tomorrow.

Tomorrow evening will be the opening date of the Salvation Army tent meeting to be held back of the post-office on South Pittsburg street. It will be the aim of the local workers to have every church in town represented and every minister present at the opening which is intended to be a fruitful series of meetings.

There will be a parade or march through the principal streets of the town at 7:30 o'clock and the services will begin at 8 o'clock.

Brimming Over With Helps to Happy Holiday

The Fourth of July now-a-days is the date of discharge of hundreds of happy people from work-shops and stores and office, to the open air, the green fields, or a quiet day at home.

This time the double holiday doubles the joy, and, by being properly outfitted you'll get a greater amount of pleasure and health from your outing.

Count on us to start you right—the first store in Connellsville to encourage out-of-door enjoyment by its 6 o'clock closing and observances of holidays.

"Sure, I'm posting my friends, for their appearance and their profit, on the good they can do themselves by investing in Wright-Metzler Clothes for men."

"Now, I know these clothes are right, that they suit the particular man and that the prices are not high. In fact they are lower in price, by comparison, than any of like quality I have seen elsewhere."

"That is why I am passing the news along."

Has he seen you yet?
